Ships launch.
